GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1240

TRADE DISPUTE EXISTING BETWEEN CERTAIN EMPLOYEES REPRESENTED BY THE KENYA DISTRIBUTIVE AND COMMERCIAL WORKERS' UNION AND THEIR EMPLOYER, THE KENYA MEAT COMMISSION, HEARD AND EXPRESSED BEFORE AN ARBITRATION TRIBUNAL COMPRISING MR. T. W. TYRRELL, O.B.E., AS ARBITRATOR, WITH MESSRS. A. A. OCHWADA AND A. W. KILLICK AS ASSESSORS, APPOINTED UNDER SECTION 5 OF THE TRADE DISPUTE (ARBITRATION AND INQUIRIES) ACT (CAP. 234)

AWARD OF THE TRIBUNAL

1. The terms of appointment of the Tribunal quoted the issue in dispute as "the job grading of certain employees of the Kenya Meat Commission". It was clear from this wording that the widest possible interpretation was called for.

2. From the evidence submitted and heard from and by both parties, as well as evidence received from witnesses called in support of each of the parties to the dispute, the Tribunal concluded that two fundamental differences existed—

(a) as to whether or not there had been an acceptance of the result of job grading; and

(b) whether or not the basic minimum upon which the evaluation had been applied had in fact been agreed.

3. It was, therefore, necessary to appreciate the universally recognized limits and obligations of consultations by Management and Labour on this vexed subject of job grading coupled with job evaluation. These limits and obligations are internationally accepted within industry and must be read into any recognition agreement or charter dealing with industrial relations. It is a first essential that both sides fully understand the implications of job grading, which briefly means a price fixing, within the terms of a country's economic standards, of the worth of labour in any and every operation within an industry without regard to person or sentiment, i.e. there can be no recognition of increments or long service through wages.

4. Thereafter, both parties having reached agreement that job grading is acceptable as a means of payment for labour, it is the responsibility of Management to carry through the exercise and present the results of that exercise. Consultation should then take place as to the basic wage upon which the evaluation of the grading is to be made.

5. From the evidence of a number of witnesses, it was obvious that there was a lack of appreciation of what job grading really meant.

6. Taking the two fundamental issues earlier referred to, in paragraph 2, with regard to (a), I find that the employer relied upon an assumption that acceptance had been given by the Union to the senior shop steward. I cannot help but refer to the universally acknowledged obligation of consultation, which had taken place in the first place, when it was agreed that grading should be carried out, but was not followed up by Management at other than shop steward level for the basic evaluation. It is my view that the results of the work of the grading team should have received formal acceptance by the Union before any attempt at implementation.

7. MY AWARD must, therefore, be to refer the schedule of job grading back to the Central Negotiating Committee with the recommendations that follow in paragraph 10.

8. With regard to (b) in paragraph 2, the claim of Management that a new minimum wage had been agreed at a meeting of the Central Negotiating Committee on 15th May 1963, for the purpose of a basis for job evaluation, I can find no evidence of such agreement. Here again Management assumed that by agreeing to an overall increase of Sh. 20 per month to all employees of the Kenya Meat Commission covered by Union negotiations, it had established an agreed new minimum. This despite the fact that prior to the meeting of 15th May 1963, referred to, there were minimum wages differentials in various places at which the Commission operated.

9. MY AWARD must, therefore, be that the basic job evaluation figure be referred back to the Central Negotiating Committee for agreement by both parties.

10. The recommendations to the Central Negotiating Committee previously referred to in paragraph 7 are as follows:—

(a) To grade the sex of a worker as opposed to the job is contrary to the principles of job grading. Under job grading it must be accepted, irrespective of other agreements made under a practice of category wage payments, that where male and female workers do the same job the same price for the job applies.

(b) Where several classes of labourers are graded on a job evaluation basis, then labourers dependent upon the job should be graded in classes, i.e. Labourer Class I, Labourer Class II, and so on. Within the grading shown to me are eight different job evaluations for labourers at the Athi River factory alone.

(c) Clerical posts in the production department should also be classified as in (b) above, in order that misunderstandings be eliminated.

(d) Telephone operators should likewise be subgraded by class of job undertaken.

(e) It is observed that under the maintenance engineer at Athi River the title "improver" is used. It is appreciated that an establishment, when fixed, cannot be extended to enlarge the number of full artisans. Nevertheless, the term improver is recognized by artisans as applying to a specific time (normally three years maximum) immediately after completion of apprenticeship. It is recognized that apprenticeships are new to Africa, but nevertheless normal recognition should be given to the actual work carried out, and a system of subgrading introduced.

11. The Union claim that racial bias had been introduced in the job grading and evaluation is in a measure justified when one finds a disparity of some Sh. 800 per month between the carpenter and improver. It was evident from a visit to Athi River and an examination of time sheets that both carpenter and improver work together on similar maintenance work. The suspicion arose that the grading of improvers was influenced by pre-grading rates of pay. Management should take all possible action to eliminate such suspicion at all stages by recognizing the recommendations contained in paragraph 10 above.

12. It is the view of the Tribunal that, if job grading is to be effected on a long-term basis, an establishment for each place of business should be available to the Union and that any re-assessments which may become necessary from time to time should be advised to the Union prior to introduction.

Finally, to the parties to the dispute, the Tribunal pays tribute for the very cordial atmosphere in which the evidence was given.

I must also place on record my appreciation of the understanding and assistance given and shown by the two assessors. The Tribunal would also wish to thank Mr. Chege Kibachia for all his help and co-operation.

Dated at Nairobi the 27th day of February 1964.

Arbitrator.
Q. W. KILLICK,
Assessor.
A. A. OCHWADA,
Assessor.
