VACANCY OFFERED BY COMMONWEALTH SECRETARIAT

APPLICATIONS from qualified candidates enclosing a detailed curriculum vitae should be addressed to the Permanent Secretary/Director of Personnel Management, P.O. Box 30050, Nairobi, so as to reach him not later than 22nd September, 1984.

Post title.—ADVISER in handicraft carving of wood, bone and ivory.

Date required.—As soon as possible.

Duty station.—Blantyre, Malawi.

Duration.—One year.

Reporting officer.—Director, Malawi Export Promotion Council.

Background.—The products concerned in the project are functional items in addition to decorative products and curios hand carved in wood, ivory and bone.

The estimated value of the carving and turning craft industry of Malawi is as follows:

(a) annual output MK 800,000.

(b) Employment 650.

The structure of this sector of the craft industry and number of firmshare shown in the following table:

	Numbers involved
	1	2-10	11-19	20-99	100+
Sole operators	40	—	—	—	—
Co-operating groups	—	42	4	1	0
Private companies	—	0	0	0	2

Existing markets are local, southern Africa and U.S.A. The potential additional markets are E.E.C. countries. All raw materials are locally produced and worked by indigenous technologies and skills.

The proportions of wood carvers to the total labour force in paid employment (365,000 as shown in the Malawi Government Economic Report, 1982) is 0.17 per cent.

The contribution to the gross domestic product is estimated at 0.05 per cent.

The proportion of export revenue generated by this sector of industry is estimated at 0.18 per cent.

Present levels of capacity utilization are medium to low. Value added locally is 100 per cent. Constraints on growth of output are caused by use of inefficient equipment, lack of technical know-how and lack of training and organizations.

The government's plan for the development of craft industry sector as a whole, is to set up a Pilot Craft Development Centre (C.D.C.). Apart from a basic training function the C.D.C. will develop the infrastructure and business linkages through area craft associations. The centre will also become the central marketing point through which orders for products obtained as a result of promotional and marketing drives of M.E.P.C. will be channeled or distributed. Additional C.D.C.'s will be set up at key areas in the country.

Promotion and marketing will be undertaken by M.E.P.C.; which will include projected marketing surveys in E.E.C. countries and other target markets. These will be followed where appropriate by trade fair participation.

Estimated annual export value to selected markets is MK475,000. Constraints on expansion of exports are lack of infrastructural development, sporadic and unreliable production and lack of product development and quality.

Duties.—The adviser will be required to carry out the following duties—

(1) to provide advanced skill training in hand carving and finishing;

(2) to advise and introduce improved production methods so as to increase productivity and competitiveness;

(3) to train counterpart in all aspects of fine relief and three dimensional carving.

Qualifications and experience.—The adviser should have either served an apprenticeship as a carver or successfully completed a training course at a recognized school of crafts. He should have at least five years of professional experience after the completion of training and be thoroughly experienced in working in wood, ivory and bone. Experience in working with rural craftsmen in a developing country is essential.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3476

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 14 OF 1983

Parties:

Kenya Local Government Workers' Union
and
Eldoret Municipal Council

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Martin Ombewa.

THE Kenya Local Government Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Eldoret Municipal Council shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 9th February, 30th May and 28th June, 1984, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses:

Claimants.—M. Ombewa.

Respondents.—D. K. Gitau.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 27th September, 1982, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 4th February, 1983, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant in this dispute worked for the respondents from 1st August, 1974, until 31st January, 1980, when he was summarily dismissed. His dismissal was backdated to 12th August, 1977. He had, however, been suspended with effect from 12th August, 1977.

On 15th September, 1978, Mr. Ombewa was charged with the offence of stealing by servant and on 23rd October, 1979, he was found not guilty of the offence. The learned magistrate who tried him stated in his judgment that Mr. Ombewa was utterly incompetent in his job as a water superintendent and that the manner in which he had carried out his functions has resulted in financial loss to the respondents and that they were fully justified in dismissing him and even dismissing summarily. He concluded his judgment by finally stating that "I would, however, add as a final rider that the municipality should under no circumstances re-employ the accused".

The claimants took up the matter on his behalf and reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and the ministry's finding was that the grievant had apologized to the respondents on 16th December, 1977, about the unaccounted seven pieces of piping which was an admission of the loss. The ministry also noted that he was acquitted in the criminal case but the acquittal did not clear him of the loss of confidence by the respondents in him in the light of his admission. It recommended that the dismissal should be reduced to normal termination and he should be paid his terminal dues.

In this dispute the grievant had the benefit of three detailed investigations, directly or indirectly. The court has gone through the criminal record and finds that the prosecution called nine witnesses who gave evidence on oath and the defendant also gave evidence and although he was acquitted the learned magistrate took the rather unusual step of concluding his judgment by saying that he should under no circumstances be re-employed by the respondents. Earlier, the magistrate had said that Mr. Ombewa deserved summary dismissal.

This was followed by an investigation by the Ministry of Labour and finally a full hearing before the Industrial Court.

The court finds that Mr. Ombewa who claims that he is a civil engineer as he is an associate member of the Society of Engineers, U.K. and also a member of the Royal Society of Health carried out his duties as a water superintendent without due regard to the established procedures. Some of the allegations against him and which were proved during the hearing were that he had received a sum of KSh. 700 in June, 1977, from a person for water supplied and had connected water supply to the applicant's plot but no record of this transaction appeared in the respondents' official books which resulted in the applicant getting free water for several months. The respondents also did not get the KSh. 700. Another incident was that he had received a sum of KSh. 760 on 8th August, 1977, at a certain farm from another applicant for water connection which money he still had in his possession and failed to remit it to the council to enable the water connection to be made.

His case was thoroughly discussed by the respondents' Finance, Staff and General Purposes Committee on 21st December, 1977, where Mr. Ombewa was also present by invitation. From the minutes of this meeting it appears that there was a thorough hearing on the matter of his suspension. It was finally resolved that Mr. Ombewa had a case to answer of not accounting for the respondents' property he requisitioned from the stores and that before deciding on the disciplinary action to be taken against him he should be asked to pay the total cost of the loss less what had been returned to the respondents' stores.

The matter was again discussed by the same committee on 22nd December, 1977, during which meeting Mr. Ombewa asked the committee either to pardon him or to dismiss him from service or to report the matter to the police! The committee then decided that the matter should be referred to the police which resulted in the aforesaid criminal case and his acquittal but which contained severe strictures against him in the learned magistrate's judgment.

During the hearing the court was treated to further lengthy investigation reports and Mr. Ombewa's detailed explanations in reply thereto. The court has carefully considered all the evidence and finds it proved that Mr. Ombewa was indeed negligent in his work in that he failed to ensure that unused piping materials were returned to the respondents' stores for safe keeping, that he failed to use the pipes so requisitioned from the stores for purposes of work for which they had been obtained and that generally he was very negligent in his supervision of the work of his subordinates.

Halfway through the hearing before this court, Mr. Ombewa's lawyer abandoned him but the court gave him every facility to conclude the case.

The court has very carefully considered all aspects of this dispute and finds itself in total agreement with the sentiments expressed by the learned magistrate when he acquitted Mr. Ombewa of the criminal offence that Mr. Ombewa was utterly incompetent in his job as a water superintendent, that the manner in which he carried out his duties resulted in financial loss to the respondents and that they were fully justified in summarily dismissing him. The court accordingly rejects all the claims made by the claimants on Mr. Ombewa's behalf.

Given in Nairobi the 29th August, 1984.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 94 OF 1983

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and
Unga Feeds Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Zablon Imbila.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Unga Feeds Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 6th March, 21st and 22nd June and 13th July, 1984, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses:

Claimants:

Z. Imbila.
J. M. Njoroge.
B. Makora.
J. Andayi.

Respondents:

G. T. Jason.
J. N. Malandi.
J. Imbenzi.
D. Kioko.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 19th May, 1983, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 25th October together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant in this dispute, Z. Imbila, used to work for Pfizer Laboratories Ltd. up to December, 1981, when the respondents bought their Nakuru plant with effect from 1st December, 1981. Mr. Imbila was paid by Pfizer Laboratories

Ltd. a sum of KSh. 8,797 being his terminal benefits on being declared redundant.

With effect from 1st December, 1981, he started working for the respondents as a factory process worker earning KSh. 1,229 plus house allowance of KSh. 80 per month. As a result of an incident that took place on 29th January, 1982, during which it is alleged that Mr. Imbila had refused to obey the instructions of the plant manager and later had become furious and advanced wildly in karate style towards the manager, he was suspended and then dismissed on 4th February, 1982.

The claimants' branch secretary took up the matter on his behalf and it appears that he involved the district labour officer, Nakuru, in this affairs who arranged three meetings in March, 1982. The grievant and the two shopstewards and the branch secretary attended the meetings and the district labour officer recommended that the matter be settled by paying him a month's wages in lieu of notice.

The claimants' having rejected the recommendation of the district labour officer then formally reported the dispute to the Ministry for Labour and the ministry carried out a formal investigation and its findings established that Mr. Imbila was disrespectful to the management and was out to use physical means to settle his differences with the plant manager. This promoted the respondents to take disciplinary action by suspending him from duty and then of dismissing him.

After a careful evaluation of the evidence the court is satisfied that on 29th January, 1982, Mr. Imbila while engaged on off-loading work on a railway wagon was performing his duties rather recklessly when he was throwing salt bags to the other gang which was standing outside the wagon with the result that the salt bags were being damaged. He was instructed to hand over the salt bags to the workers but instead of obeying he started arguing. Eventually he was asked to get out of the wagon and instructed to put the spilled salt back into the bags which made Mr. Imbila very angry. At about 10 a.m. the matter was reported to the plant manager who asked Mr. Imbila for an explanation which he refused to give saying that he had nothing to say. When the work recommenced Mr. Imbila again went into the wagon and when the plant manager came to see how the work was progressing he asked Mr. Imbila what he was doing and Mr. Imbila started shouting and there was an exchange of words between him and the plant manager during which Mr. Imbila got very annoyed and jumped towards the plant manager waving his arms and legs in karate style. On hearing the noise and seeing what was happening another worker Mr. Imbenzi shouted in Kiswahili "usijaribu" on hearing which Mr. Imbila retreated.

The court was very impressed by the evidence of Mr. Imbenzi and the court finds him to be a truthful witness despite the fact that he lives in the servants' quarter in the house occupied by the wife of the plant manager. His evidence taken with the evidence of the other witnesses has convinced the court that Mr. Imbila did misbehave and although during several meetings to which the court does not intend to refer he was given an opportunity of apologizing to the plant manager but he refused to do so.

Considering the fact that Mr. Imbila had really worked for the respondents for only about two months and his non-repentant attitude, the court is in total agreement with the Ministry of Labour's recommendation that his service should be terminated by giving him one month's notice or salary in lieu thereof. The court would like to impress upon the workers that they must refrain from resorting to physical violence in settling their real or alleged differences with the management. In Kenya we have a well established industrial relations machinery to which workers and employers are entitled to resort to at any time.

The court finds that the claimants have made a vigorous attempt in this dispute on behalf of Mr. Imbila but finds that they have failed to convince the court by a very wide margin on the innocence of Mr. Imbila. The court also accepts the evidence of T. Jason that he at no time agreed to Mr. Imbila's reinstatement when he was journeying towards Nakuru with an official of the claimants. The court accordingly rejects the claimants' demand made on Mr. Imbila's behalf and awards that the respondents should change Mr. Imbila's summary dismissal to a normal termination of service which would entitle him to one month's notice or pay in lieu thereof and his other lawful termination dues.
