THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 71 OF 1985

Parties:

Tailors and Textiles Workers' Union
and
East African Fine Spinners Ltd.

Issues in dispute:

Death of an employee.
Night shift allowance.
Housing allowance.
Wages.

THE Tailors and Textiles Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and East African Fine Spinners Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 30th September, 1985, and relied their on written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of the Dispute Form "A" dated 29th April, 1985, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 26th July, 1985, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The East African Fine Spinners Ltd. has a shareholding consisting of the following organizations:

- (a) Industrial and commercial Development Corporation 73 per cent.
- (b) Kenya Commercial Finance Corporation Ltd. 2 per cent.
- (c) East African Development Bank 15 per cent.
- (d) Amatek of West Germany 10 per cent.

It is noted that the shareholding detailed above shows a direct public ownership through I.C.D.C. of 73 per cent.

The dispute arose as a result of the parties attempt to revise the last Collective Bargaining Agreement between them which was in force from 1st June, 1982 to 31st May, 1984, a period of two years. This agreement covers the terms and conditions of service of 497 unionizable employees.

A. Death of an employee.—The claimants state that on the subject of the death of an employee they propose that the employer should bear the full cost of coffin and transportation of the dead and his or her close relatives to the ancestral home for burial. The claimants cited East African Bag and Cordage Company Ltd., United Textiles Industries and Kensack Ltd. as examples of employers who provide this assistance to the bereaved.

The respondents objected to the introduction of such a new clause. They argue that the claimants have failed to produce any written agreement on which they relied to justify their claim. The fact remains that whatever is practised in these companies is done ex-gratia just as is done by the respondents. The respondents further stated that when an employee dies, the respondents automatically pay to the family of the deceased a sum equivalent to his two months wages at the time of his death.

B. Night shift allowance.—The claimants demand that each employee who works on a night shift be paid a night shift allowance of KSh. 5. This allowance is demanded to compensate workers for sleepless night, inconvenience and suffering such workers experience during night-shift work.

The claimants state that other firms which operate night-shift work pay shift allowance and have as a result found that such workers are more productive and furthermore concentrate on their work.

The respondents stated that they consider their terms and conditions of service if compared with other companies in the textile industry in this country to be best. Indeed their wage rates are above what other companies offer. This generosity is meant to compensate employees, amongst other things for having to work on shift.

The respondents submitted that the employees who perform shift work are adequately compensated as they work 42 hours instead of 45 hours as provided in the collective agreement.

Lastly, the respondents are duty bound to harmonize the terms and conditions of service with what obtains in the civil service, and since there is no night shift allowance in the government union's demand should be rejected.

C. Housing allowance.—The claimants noted that over a number of years, the respondents have been paying their employees 15 per cent of the wages as housing allowance per month. They further stated that the respondents wages range from KSh. 816.30 for the lowest to KSh. 1,570 for the highest per month. It shows that the respondents pay an average house allowance of KSh. 160.45 per month which is a very small amount of money compared to what they are required to pay as rent in slum areas of the city.

The claimants therefore request the court to award a reasonable sum to enable the workers to meet their soaring rents.

The respondents pointed out that at present they are paying their employees at the rate of 15 per cent of an employees monthly wage and not 15 per cent of the basic minimum wage therefore the employees stand to gain.

The respondents pointed out to the court that having consulted the parastatal advisory committee the respondents would strictly adhere to the wages guidelines which require that compensation for rent increases should not exceed one half of the permissible percentage increase in the wages for any particular group as per schedule submitted to the court.

The respondents would only consider the question of paying a reasonable house allowance depending on sound financial position of the company which may allow subsidization of house rent, but not to pay full rents on their behalf.

D. Wages.—The claimants original demand was an increase of 60 per cent spread over two years of the agreement. However, after negotiations and counter offers made by the respondents they came down to the following figures:

- Group 1 to 3, 14 per cent and 13 per cent for 1st and 2nd year, respectively.
- Group 4 to 5, 13 per cent and 11 per cent 1st and 2nd year, respectively.
- Group 6 to 11, 11 per cent and 10 per cent 1st and 2nd year, respectively.

The claimants argue that the cost of living has considerably gone up and that the purchasing power of essential commodities has been eroded tremendously and the employees should therefore receive a fair compensation.

The claimants told the court that the respondents enjoy a monopoly of trade as they have no other competitor. The respondents should therefore be made to share their profits with the workers as they can afford to pay.

Finally the claimants demanded the following:

Job Group	1st Year per cent	2nd Year per cent
1 to 3	18	16
4 to 5	16	14
6 to 11	15	13
Total average	16.3	14.3

On this issue the respondents are offering a total of 15.4 per cent for two years period or 7.7 per cent per year on the basis of wages guidelines. They argue that the offer is based on the authority and approval of the parastatal advisory committee. The D.M.P.D. analysis indicate that under the wage guidelines the employees are entitled to a total of 17.3 per cent for the two years' period of the agreement or 8.7 per cent per year.

The respondents offer of 7.7 per cent per year or a total of 15.4 per cent approved by the parastatal advisory committee is below the ceiling of wages guidelines by 1.0 per year or 2.0 for the two years' period of the agreement.

The court notes that the claimants demand of a total average of 30.6 per cent for the two years' period of the agreement or an average of 15.3 per cent per year is also over and above the ceiling of the wages guidelines by 6.6 per cent per year (i.e. 15.3 to 8.7 per cent is equal to 6.6 per cent or a total of 13.2 per cent for the two years' period of the agreement. It is also observed that the respondents during the conciliation period had offered employees a general wage increase of an average of 12.6 per cent for the first year and a further average of 11.3 per cent for the second year of the agreement. If this original offer is considered it reflects an excess of 3.3 per cent per annum or 6.6 per cent for the whole period of the agreement.

(a) Death of employee.—The court agrees with the views of the respondents not to contract with the claimants on issues that are natural and humane and which would be expected to be observed by them as part of the social obligation.

Furthermore, in the event of an employee's death the claimants will have no jurisdiction to implement the provisions of the agreement unless they are either executors or administrators of that employee's estate, capacities which again the law does not allow trade unions to assume.

The court rejects the claimants demand.

(b) Night shift allowance.—As regards this demand for paying KSh. 5 per person as night shift allowance, the court rejects this demand for the time being as the respondents have taken care of this by having allowed the workers three hours off when they should be actively working.

(c) Housing allowance.—The court after proper consideration of the parties submission and relying on guideline (v) makes the following award:

Job grade 1 to 5 KSh. 200 per month.

Job grade 6 to 11 KSh. 300 per month.

(d) Wages.—Finally the court makes the following award on wages:

Job Group	1st Year per cent	2nd Year per cent
1 to 5	11	10
6 to 11	9	8

The above increase to take effect from the dates already agreed between the parties.

Given in Nairobi the 15th November, 1985.

Judge.

A. KERICH,

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.
