THE INDUSTRIAL COURT OF KENYA

CAUSE No. 8 OF 2004

*Parties:*KENYA GUARDS AND ALLIED WORKERS
UNION—(Claimants)

VERSUS

FACTORY GUARDS LIMITED—(Respondents)

Issue in Dispute:

Victimization and subsequent dismissal of the employees (hereinafter called the grievants).

Chesang', advocate for the claimants (hereinafter called the union).

G. Kairu, advocate, of Messrs. Kairu and McCourt, Advocates, assisted by counsels Carolyn Ng'ang'a and Mbui respectively (hereinafter called the company).

AWARD

The Notification of Disputes, Form "A", dated 10th November, 2003, together with the statutory certificates from the Labour Commissioner and the Minister for Labour under section 14 (7) and (9) (e) and (f) of the Trade Disputes Act, (Cap. 234), laws of Kenya (which is hereinafter referred to as the Act), were received by the court on 21st January, 2004 and the dispute was listed for mention on 19th February, 2004. On this occasion, Nyumba appeared for the claimants and counsel Steven Kairu appeared with assisting counsel Sofia Mbui for the respondent. The Court directed that the claimant submit or file their respective written memorandum or statements within seven (7) days and the respondent to file and serve their reply to the memorandum within the next fourteen (14) days. The dispute was fixed for further mention on 16th March, 2004. On that date, Chesang' advocate appeared for the claimant/union and counsel Steve Kairu appeared with assisting counsel Sofia Mbui for the respondents and the dispute was fixed for hearing on 5th April, 2004. Counsel Chesang' submitted his memorandum on 26th February, 2004, and counsel Stephen Kairu "filed" his reply statement on 11th March, 2004.

On 14th April, 2004, Counsel Chesang' appeared for the claimant/union whereas counsel Kelvin appeared with assisting counsel Wenda (Miss), for the respondent respectively. Both the parties requested the court to allocate two (2) days for hearing of this dispute. The court granted the application and fixed the matter for Hearing on 20th and 21st May, 2004.

On 20th May, 2004 counsel Chesang' and counsel Steven Kairu appeared for their respective parties. counsel Steven Kairu, informed the Court that negotiations to explore a possibility of an out of court settlement was at an advanced stage. He therefore, applied for adjournment. The Court granted the application and listed the matter for further mention on 3rd June, 2004 and Hearing on 21st June, 2004.

The dispute was consequently heard on 21st and 23rd June, 2004 and the final submissions were made on 24th June, 2004.

The Respondent is a Security company which was incorporated in Kenya under the Companies Act, Cap. 486, Laws of Kenya as a Limited liability concern. Its activities include providing of security guards at factories and industries etc at Nairobi and its environs, within the Republic of Kenya.

This dispute first arose on 28th April, 2003 in the morning session. The grievants marched to their main building offices demanding to know whether they were going to be paid their salary for the month of April, 2003.

The shop stewards then went to the offices of the acting personnel manager, Victor Wamugunda, to inquire about the delay. After a brief exchange they were referred to see the Finance Manager or the General Manager at the regional headquarters for further information about the delay. Two or three days later, there was a Management meeting. In that meeting it was decided to summarily dismiss the grievants herein from employment. The Claimant Union then declared a trade dispute with the Minister for Labour and Human Resource Development who caused an investigation into the matter. Both parties were referred by the Minister to accept his findings and recommendations as a basis of resolving this dispute. The Union accepted the Minister's recommendation, whereas the Respondent/Company rejected it on the grounds:

- That the appointed investigator, P.M. Karanja, did not appreciate their views and position.
- That the Regional Headquarters was not and had never been a pay point such that the argument that the employees were congregating at a paypoint does not hold any factual basis. On this ground alone, gross misconduct could be inferred.

The basic facts are not in dispute. The respondent admits having employed the grievants. The engagement dates of each of the grievants have been specified by the claimant in its memorandum filed in court on the 26th day of February, 2004. The respondent did not dispute this. It is also not in dispute that the grievants worked continuously since their engagement up to the date of their summary dismissal. However, the Respondent disputed the claim on the grounds that:

- There is no Recognition Agreement between the Claimants and the Respondent.
- The trade dispute as originally reported to the Minister by the Claimant under Section 4 of the Trade Disputes Act is different from the trade dispute notified to this Court under the Notification of Dispute (Form 'A'), dated 10th November, 2003. Consequently, the Pre-Industrial Court procedure was not exhausted.
- The Notification of Dispute (Form 'A') was not signed by the Respondent and there was no joint Application to the Court under Section 14 (7) of the Trade Disputes Act nor did the Minister refer the dispute to the Court.
- The Claimant complaint was vague and inconsistent to the extent that the Respondent were prejudiced in that the nature of complaint was not specified or in the alternative, it was unclear to the Respondent whether the Claimant alleged that the grievants were victimised, wrongfully dismissed or wrongfully declared redundant.

The main issue for determination in this dispute is:

- Whether the grievants were guilty of gross misconduct justifying summary dismissal, or
- If not guilty of gross misconduct, were the grievants entitled to any benefits?

We will consider these two issues in the light of the law and facts before us.

The dispute was reported to the Minister for Labour and Human Resource Development under section 4 of the Act; empowered him under the provisions of section 5. The Minister accepted the dispute put before him and appointed an Investigator under section 7 of the Act. The Investigator's Report and recommendations of 24th September, 2003 formed the bed-rock for a referral of the dispute to this Court under Section 8 of the Act.

The Claimant and the Respondent had all the opportunity to appear before the appointed Investigator, P. N. Macharia, to argue their differences. Which they both did. The Investigator established that the Respondent i.e. Factory Guards Limited and Security Group Limited were sister companies with the same Directors and Administration though each is separate a legal entity. The Investigation finding concerned with the respondent reply to the Claimant's Memorandum of claim point number (9) "...in that, there was no Recognition Agreement with the claimant; though both have an informal relationship". Notwithstanding, the lack of Recognition Agreement, the Minister recommended that the dismissals be reduced to normal termination. The grievants be paid all normal terminal dues in accordance with the Regulations of Wages (Protective Security Services) Order 2003. It further recommended that each grievant be paid two months wages for each completed year as compensation for suffering a wrongful termination and loss of employment.

The Investigation Report does not make any reference that during these proceedings neither party raised the question of whether or not the claimant union was not entitled to represent the grievant employees. In the circumstances, this goes further to answer the issue of Recognition Agreement between the claimant and the respondent. Up until this point the dispute was under going "pre-industrial court" procedures whereby the Honourable Minister for Labour and Human Resource Development was attempting to explore a possibility of an amicable out of court settlement in the spirit of Industrial peace as contained in the Industrial Relations Charter which constitutes not only the Government policy approach but is also the central guide to contractual obligations in the work place between employers and employees and Trade Unions or Associations of Employers and Employees, and between Employees and Employees, Trade Unions and Trade Unions, and Employers and their Associations.

Section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act, Cap. 234, Laws of Kenya envisages a reference to this Court by the Minister upon the "representation of any Trade Union, employer or group of employers". It is logical, therefore, that a Trade Union to make such representation, it must first be involved in the dispute resolution attempt at the Ministry level. In most cases we note that Trade Unions are involved as the employees are members of the Trade Unions representing them in the Industry in question at the time. The Union may not have a Recognition Agreement and or a Collective Bargaining Agreement with the employer. The Respondents' Counsel in his reply to the Claimants' Memorandum of claim alleged that the claimant/union did not have a Recognition Agreement with the Respondent and thus, the Claimant lacks the necessary legal right "Locus standi" to lodge or prosecute this dispute. As we have noted, a Recognition Agreement is not a pre-condition for representation of an aggrieved employee by his/her Trade Union in cases of wrongful dismissal or termination of employment and the seeking of resultant remedies. More particularly, a Recognition Agreement or Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) is a contractual tool for establishment of specific rights in employment as agreed between parties.

In the instant case, the Claimant Union is seeking rights for the dismissed grievants from the Statutory Minimum under the Regulation of Wages (Protective Security Services) Order, 1998, and conditions under the Employment Act, (Cap. 229), Laws of Kenya.

It has already been decided by this Court in Cause No. 117 of 2000 (Cockar JIC) the matter having gone through all the stages as set out in the Trade Disputes Act and the Minister having referred the matter to this Court, I quote "----- the Respondents' submission that they have no Recognition Agreement with the Claimants has been overtaken by events and the Court has no alternative but to make an award in this dispute". This Court's jurisdiction, unlike in the High Court arises only after an appropriate and statutory procedures in order to attempt settlement has been fully exhausted. This is in the spirit of tripartite self-governance on contractual relationship between the owners of capital and the owners of labour, both sides may be represented by their respective Trade Unions. The Government, through the Ministry of Labour and Human Resource Development plays a facilitative role. It creates and supports an enabling environment and monitors the sector, especially ensuring that the human rights of employees to an adequate standard of living, as enshrined in the Constitution of Kenya, the policy on Wages Guidelines and Kenya's obligations to International Law, especially the United Nations Conventions and the International Labour Standards are implemented.

We are, therefore satisfied that the matter having come before this Court through the correct channel of the Trade Disputes Act, provisions, this Court is seized of, jurisdiction and has allowed the parties in question to appear before it and argue their respective case. We are satisfied that both the parties were properly represented in the Cause at all stages of the hearing.

Counsel Chesang' for the Claimant argued that the grievants were victimised and subsequently dismissed from service. They were employed continuously for between 1-32 years as set out in the Claimant's Memorandum i.e. Musembi Kilembi was employed on 1st May, 1971 and was dismissed on 5th May, 2003 whereas Mr. Justus Onyango Mududa was employed on 1st November, 1998 up to 5th May, 2003. That makes it between 1-32 years. The Claimant did not rely on any contractual agreement between the parties under a Collective Bargaining Agreement but on the express provision of the law as the minimum obligations of parties in an employer/employee relationship. The Claimants called two witnesses who testified namely Charles Mwaniki and Nahashon Wycliff Rabusu, respectively. Their evidence corroborated.

In his opening submissions, counsel Kairu for the respondent stated that the grievants were guilty of gross misconduct and more specifically on the 28th day of April, 2003, in that the incident the grievants committed constituted justifiable and lawful grounds for their summary dismissal.

He strongly urged the court to find that the grievants were not entitled to anything more than the wages up to the date of 5th May, 2003. Counsel Kairu further submitted that under the Regulation of Wages (Protective Security Services) Order, 1998, the grievants were not entitled to any gratuity or any other form of compensation the Claimant was seeking. We respectfully disagree on this point. The grievants are entitled to gratuity.

The respondent called four witnesses namely:

- (a) Samuel Ross who was the head of fire services.
- (b) John Mitii who was a guard at the main gate.
- (c) Victor Wamugunda, Acting Personnel Manager.
- (d) Joshua Munyoki Maluti, Area Controller in-charge of the Industrial area zone.

None of the Respondents' witnesses said they saw unruly crowd or any destruction of property. In fact, the witness who was on the ground, John Mitii who guarded the main gate to the General Manager's Regional Office, clearly stated that he saw his colleagues (the Grievants) marching towards the main gate. They requested him to open the gate as they wanted to see the General Manager to air their grievances. He further stated that they shouted solidarity slogans "Harambee" - in reply they shouted "Nguvu". The Grievants were in a short while followed by Roger Hans and a few minutes later Samuel Ross also arrived. The Police from the Industrial Area Police Station also arrived. Both Samuel Ross and the Technical Manager, Roger Hans did not enter the premises as the main gate had been closed under the instructions of the General Manager, Niklas Brian Rogers. He further said that he only opened the gate when he was ordered by the O.C.S., Industrial Area Police Station. The grievants were addressed by several people i.e. Stephen Kimani, Maluti, Eddy Omari and lastly the O.C.S., who also requested them to go back to their respective working stations and continue with their duties. The grievants, then left the gate at 2.30 p.m.

At no moment in his evidence did John Mitii say that the grievants tried forcing their way. He did not say the gate cracked or was damaged. Nor did he say that the Grievants threatened to kill him unless he co-operated. John Mitii was an honest witness. His evidence, this Court is convinced was truthful. In the circumstances, the Court is also convinced that his evidence was corroborated by all the other three witnesses. It is true that the grievants confronted Mitii at the main gate of the Respondents' Headquarters, Mombasa Road and became unruly and disrupted the business operations before they were ordered to leave at 2.30 p.m. They complied. They were not violent. Therefore, this did not amount to being tantamount to gross misconduct. Having taken matters thus far, we respectfully disagree with the Counsel for the Respondent that the Main gate into the premises was cracked or damaged. No evidence or any proof or assessment report was tabled to support this line of argument. If this point was important to the Respondent, Counsel would have pressed it adequately at the hearing; he did not. Moreover, the Counsel for the Respondent did not attempt to present the General Manager to Court as a witness. If the Counsel had, then he would have had a field day to solve most of the difficult questions or gaping-holes in this dispute. The General Manager, was the final authority. He was watching the whole scenario of the grievants marching towards the main gate from his offices upstairs, yet he was not produced as a witness. No explanation was provided to the Court as to why he was not availed as a witness. It was therefore difficult to deny that it was the General Manager himself who ordered the closure of the main gate.

Had the General Manager ordered the main gate to be opened to the Shop Stewards and addressed the position to them, he would have averted the entire scenario which eventually led to the dismissal of the Grievants.

The Court would like to stress that it has no intention of restricting an employer's right to hire and fire unless it is proved that such hiring and firing amounts to unfair labour practise.

In countries where organized labour has won the right to collective bargaining, it is all the more important that there should be no unfair labour practise, otherwise the industrial relations machinery would not function smoothly. This matter, however, is not so simple as that. If it is found by the Court that the dismissal is infact founded on misconduct, negligence or inefficiency then the Court must find out if the facts support the allegation made against the worker. In such cases, the Court will not, however, easily set aside the Management's decision. It will interfere only in the following instances:

- (a) When there is want of good faith, e.g. camouflaging the real reason for dismissing the employee.
- (b) When there is victimization or unfair labour practise, such as dismissal of an employee for trade Union activities, racialism, tribalism, personal or grudges.
- (c) When the Management has been guilty of a basic error or violation of the principle of natural justice; and
- (d) When on the materials the finding is completely baseless or perverse.
- (e) When the employer has been unduly harsh e.g. terminating the services of an employee where, perhaps a warning letter have sufficed.

The Court notes that Appendix 25 of the Claimants submissions is a letter dated 8th April, 2003, addressed to the Secretary-General, Kenya Guards and Allied Workers Union by the General Manager, Niklas Brian Rogers. In our view, and more specifically the last line of the last paragraph amounts to a threat to the Shop Stewards, the claimant union and the grievants in the cause of their duty at the Respondents' Company.

This Court would like to take this earliest opportunity to warn the General Manager to desist from being arrogant or usage of uncivilized language. He should endeavor to meet with the Shop Stewards immediately there is a threat of misunderstanding between the Company and the employees. It is not a surprise that, he chose not to come to court to give evidence. The Court is left with no alternative but to conclude that he could have averted the major cause of this misunderstanding by simply opening the door for dialogue instead of ordering the guard at the main gate, John Mitii to close the door. We rebuke the decision of the General Manager to order the main entrance gate to the Regional Headquarters to be locked.

All the evidence tendered from both sides have been thoroughly examined. The Court has also very carefully considered all the arguments put forward on the various issues and has weighed them with extreme care. The Court has kept before it the fact that the Respondents' type of work i.e. "Security responsibility" is a very sensitive industry. All possible consequences of the Court's award have also been taken into account, the most important being that any unrealistic wage award could be ruinous to the Respondent.

In this Cause, there was no Collective Bargaining Agreement. The Grievants could only fall back on the Minimum wages under the law. Thus, the Respondent is obliged by law to implement the provisions of the Regulation of Wages (Protective Security Services) Order, 1998.

"Section 17 (i) After five years' service with an employer, the employee shall be entitled to eighteen days pay for every completed year of service by way of gratuity based on the employee's wages at the time of termination of service".

Section 24 "It shall be a condition of every contract of employment that the contract shall be terminable by not less than one month's notice to be given by either party in writing in lieu of notice of not less than one month's wages".

On careful perusal of the submissions of the parties, it is very clear that Niklas Brian Rogers, the General Manager of the Respondent Company was unduly harsh by dismissing the services of the grievants. There was want of good faith. He bestowed upon himself the role of the punishing authority. The law is very clear that no man can be a judge of his own cause; and it is one of the well recognised principles of administration of Justice and that justice should not only be done, but it should manifestly and undoubtedly be seen to be done.

In Rex -vs- Sussex Justices Ex-parte Mc Cathy (1927), 2K.B.476, Swift J., He observed that .... "nothing is to be done which creates even a suspicion that there has been an improper interference with the cause of justice".

Therefore, the Court cannot allow the General Manager of a Respondent Company to be a judge and the punishing authority to pass a final Management decision of dismissals against the grievants. Accordingly, the decision to summarily dismiss the grievants was bad in law and cannot, therefore, be sustained.

In Patna Electricity Supply Workers Union, (1959) 16 F.J.R. 210; at page 216, the Supreme Court of India held that:

"There is no doubt that in appropriate cases, Industrial adjudication may impose new obligations on the employer in the interest of social justice and with the object of ensuring peace and harmony between the employer and his workmen and full cooperation between them."

That being the nature and extent of the jurisdiction of the Industrial Court, it is too late now to contend that the contractual power of the Respondent/Employer to discharge the grievant/employee herein under the terms of the Regulations of Wages (Protective Security Services), Order 2003, cannot be questioned in any case.

I AWARD and ORDER as hereunder:

- (a) That the Summary Dismissal of the grievants from the Respondents' Company be reduced to normal termination.
- (b) That the Grievants herein be paid their terminal dues as shown hereunder:
  - (i) One month's salary in lieu of notice.
  - (ii) Number of days worked.
  - (iii) Leave days unutilized.
  - (iv) Gratuity, and
  - (v) Three (3) months' salary compensation for loss of employment.

For purposes of clarification, grievants namely S824 Juma Wekesa and S1034 Nahashon Rasugu have already been paid their normal termination dues thus, they will each be entitled to three (3) months' salary compensation only.

We further order that the parties meet within the next 14 days from the date of this Award under the Chairmanship of the Labour Officer, Industrial Area, Nairobi and resolve the actual number of grievants for payments to be made by the respondent in accordance with this Award.

As both members of the Court agree, it is so ordered.

Delivered in Court in the presence of both parties.

Dated the 12th July, 2004.

S.M. MADZAYO,
Judge.

Members.
