3. It must be emphasised that awards to be made are primarily for courses offered in Nigerian Universities and other higher institutions. This means that courses which are not available at undergraduate level in local universities especially technological and professional courses will be undertaken at Colleges of Technology, Polytechnics and other institutions in Nigeria. In exceptional cases, special consideration will be given to applications for courses for which there are no facilities in the local institutions and which are among the priority areas of the national manpower needs. In all cases, however, the securing of admission either locally or abroad would be no guarantee for an award, nor would admission abroad be a basis for transferring an award made tenable locally to an overseas institution.

4. Application forms.—(i) Prescribed application forms may be obtained from the following :

(a) All the State Ministries of Education at Benin, Calabar, Enugu, Ibadan, Ilorin, Jos, Kaduna, Kano, Lagos, Maiduguri, Port Harcourt and Sokoto.

(b) All Nigerian Universities.

(c) Nigerian High Commissions and Embassies abroad, and

(d) The Scholarships Division, Federal Ministry of Education, Lagos.

(ii) Applicants who want forms sent to them by post should write to any of the above offices, forwarding a self-addressed and stamped envelope, 11" x 8", marked "UNDERGRADUATES 1973-74" on the top left hand corner.

5. Documents to be submitted.—Completed application forms must be accompanied by the following documents:

(a) A photostat copy of final examination Certificates, or Statements of detailed results of WASC, O/Level, HSC and A/Level examinations issued by approved awarding body.

(b) A photostat copy of letter of admission (if already admitted)

N.B. Photo copies or certified true copies of Certificates, Statements of Results or Letters of Admission will not be accepted.

(c) A passport size photograph of applicant duly signed on the reverse side by the applicant.

6. Other conditions of applications.—(i) All applicants must submit their applications through the Heads of Departments or Principals of their present or former institutions or the Heads of Departments of their present employments.

(ii) Applicants who do not complete the forms correctly or in detail or submit the correct documents required will not be considered.

(iii) Late applications will not be considered.

(iv) No correspondence will be entered into in connection with the applications except in the case of successful applicants.

7. Closing date for application.—The last date for receiving duly completed application is 31st December, 1972. All applications should be forwarded to reach the Permanent Secretary, Federal Ministry of Education, Scholarships Division, Lagos not later than that date.

Description of duties :

1. The expert will be a member of an international team consisting of a senior expert (responsible at the same time for metal trades), an expert in electrical trades and the expert in the automotive trades. The team will be assigned to the Vocational and Management Training Centre in Bandung. Their specific task will be to assist the staff of this centre in development and carrying out a special skill up-grading programme in three trade areas, for selected teacher/instructors already employed in various secondary schools.

2. The expert will work under the general supervision of the senior expert.

3. He will be required in co-operation with his counterparts to :

(a) prepare the course material necessary for a secondary teacher/instructors' skill training/up-grading in the automotive trades covering both : diesel and petrol engine-driven vehicles. The course material should integrate into the skill training programme automotive theory, related trade technology, blue print-reading, craft science, safety standards and automotive trades teaching techniques ;

(b) plan and implement courses for teacher/instructors ;

(c) assist the senior expert in preparation of equipment requests especially those concerning automotive trades ;

(d) prepare detailed instructions for using and servicing of automotive equipment.

4. He will also :

(a) deliver instructions, both theoretical and practical in repairing and servicing vehicles and their component units and parts including diesel and petrol engines and supervise the progress of the automotive courses ;

(b) train counterpart staff who will continue the training in auto mechanics after completion of international assistance ;

(c) perform other duties in connection with the assignment which are within his competence as a vocational training expert.

Qualifications required.—Good general and technical education in auto mechanics up to minimum of technician level (preferably university level) ;

Sound practical training and experience in the automotive trades ;

Working knowledge of allied trades ;

Instructional experience required in the training for instructors, a teaching qualification will be advantageous ;

Ability and experience in preparation teaching/training material.

Languages.—Good knowledge of English, knowledge of Indonesian and/or Dutch language will be an advantage.

Background information.—In the current Indonesian five-year plan for economic and social development, which began in 1969, the provision of skilled manpower to support the planned increase of industrial development is a basic manpower policy.

There is still a lack of trained skill workers and the developing industrial infrastructure requires technical school graduates, trained in practical skills as well as in related theory.

The present number of the senior technical graduates in Indonesia is still not sufficient mostly because of lack of facilities and qualified technical teachers' staff.

To fill this gap, it is proposed to provide skill up-grading for 330 teachers from secondary schools to be employed in five vocational training centres planned to be established by the Ministry of Education. These teachers are graduates of formal teacher training institutes and have in most cases a minimum of five years' teaching experience. The Ministry of Education has requested the Ministry of Manpower to organise this training at its vocational and managerial centre in Bandung.

The first intake of 75 teacher/instructors to be covered by the project skill up-grading programme is scheduled for January 1973, and as the Ministry of Education's new vocational training centres will open in 1974, this group must be prepared by the time the first centre becomes operational.

This project will provide practical training for teacher/instructors in the following trade areas ; machine shop practice (metal trades), automotive mechanics and electrical.

(a) assessment of vocational training needs of the national staff of the Centre, including preparing in co-operation with the Director, a programme designed to enable the staff to reach the desired level of competence required to provide skill instruction;

(b) preparation of complete course material for training of secondary schools teacher-instructors in the trade covered by the expert and supervision in preparation of the same by other experts of the team. The above courses should integrate practical skill instructions with related trade technology, engineering drawing, craft science, workshop mathematics, safety standards and teaching technique in skill training;

(c) supervise and assist in the development of training aids to be used to expedite skill training in the secondary vocational training centres;

(d) preparation and review of the equipment requests, supervise the arrival and installation of equipment and the preparation of an equipment maintenance system.

5. With regard to machine-shop practice and training in basic heat treatment the expert will :

(a) prepare and develop by himself, and under his supervision, training material for conducting theoretical classes and practical training, and evaluate the training courses and material ;

(b) assist in preparation of trade manuals ;

(c) prepare trade skill tests for teacher-instructors and trade skill tests required for their future teaching activities.

6. He will also :

(a) co-ordinate and supervise the work of other ILO vocational training experts assigned to the project and the efforts of project personnel with that of the other projects and agencies whose activities have a bearing on this project ;

(b) assist in selection of project counterpart personnel and auxiliary staff ;

(c) train and supervise training of counterpart personnel assigned to the ILO experts ;

(d) be responsible to the ILO for all material, equipment and transport and the local disbursement of any funds furnished to the project through the ILO Special Fund and Government ;

(e) perform other duties in connection with his assignment which are within his particular competence, including reporting on the progress of the project.

Qualifications required.—Good general education at university level in mechanical engineering and/or vocational training ; good practical training and experience in metal trades and especially in machine shop and basic heat treatment ;

all round knowledge and experience in vocational training organisation and administration ;

experience and background in development of teaching/training to local conditions ;

capacity to plan and supervise the activities of others while maintaining a team spirit ;

ability to perform the duties specified above.

Languages.—Good knowledge of English, knowledge of Indonesian and/or Dutch will be an advantage.

Background information.—In the current Indonesian five-year plan for economic and social development, which began in 1969, the provision of skilled manpower to support the planned increase of industrial development is a basic manpower policy.

There is still a lack of trained skill workers and the developing industrial infrastructure requires technical school graduates, trained in practical skills as well as in related theory.

The present number of the senior technical graduates in Indonesia is still not sufficient mostly because of lack of facilities and qualified technical teachers' staff.

To fill this gap, it is proposed to provide skill upgrading for 300 teachers from secondary schools to be employed in five vocational training centres planned to be established by the Ministry of Education. These teachers are graduates of formal teacher training institutes and have in most cases a minimum of five years' teaching experience. The Ministry of Education has requested the Ministry of Manpower to organise this training at its vocational and managerial centre in Bandung.

The first intake of 75 teacher-instructors to be covered by the project skill upgrading programme is scheduled for January 1973, and as the Ministry of Education's new vocational training centres will open in 1974, this group must be prepared by the time the first centre becomes operational.

This project will provide practical training for teacher-instructors in the following trade areas ; machine shop practice (metal trades), automotive mechanics and electrical.
