ANNEX

METEOROLOGICAL TRAINING AND RESEARCH INSTITUTE LAGOS, NIGERIA NIR/74/013

The Meteorological Training and Research Institute is an institution set up by the Federal Government of Nigeria with the assistance of a United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) project. WMO has been designated as the Executing Agency for this project.

The establishment of the Institute reflects the desire of the Federal Government to strengthen and develop services in the Meteorological Department in Nigeria by intensifying training activities and by creating facilities for applied research projects in meteorology. In addition, a Central Forecasting Office, which will co-ordinate activities related to forecasting for aeronautics, agriculture, water resources and other purposes will be established. A marine meteorological service of the Meteorological Department will also be created.

The intensification and widening of training activities will be achieved by combining and expanding the activities of the former Regional Meteorological Training Centre at Ikeja and the Meteorological Training Centre at Oshodi into the Nigerian Meteorological Training and Research Institute. The Regional Meteorological Training Centre at Lagos, which was established with the support of WMO under a regional UNDP project was responsible for the training of Class II Meteorologists and has trained many students from Nigeria, Sudan, Botswana, Ghana, Malawi, Cameroon and Sierra Leone.

At the new Institute, the training of Class II Meteorologists will continue. In addition, the training of Class I Meteorologists for Nigeria and other African countries is planned in collaboration with the University of Ibadan. The training of Class IV Meteorological personnel will continue to be the entire responsibility of Nigerian instructors.

The Senior Expert will be responsible for the implementation of the project and for the administrative aspects of the activities of the team of international experts assigned to the project. This team comprises the Senior Expert (dynamic and synoptic meteorology), an Expert in General Meteorological Training, an Expert in Agrometeorological Research, an Instructor in Agrometeorology and one in Hydrometeorology.

The project includes considerable inputs by the Federal Government ; it is scheduled to have a total duration of four years.
