Total	200,000		2,300,000,000	100%

Article 8: Increase and decrease of the share capital

The Company may reduce or increase its share capital up to the amount agreed upon by a special resolution adopted by an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders and in accordance with relevant legal provisions.

Article 9: Preference right

The new shares to be subscribed in cash will irreducibly be, unless the general meeting decides otherwise, offered in preference to the owners of old shares, in proportion to the number of shares belonging to each one of them, for a time to be determined by the Board of Directors and in accordance with the law governing companies.

In case some shareholders where not fully or partially exercise their preferential right, the new unsubscribed shares would be offered by preference to the other owners.

Each shareholder has the right to acquire the newly-issued shares pro rata to the shares already held by such existing shareholders, at a price no less favourable than that offered to other persons, and on terms which maintain the relative voting and distribution rights of those existing shareholders.

The Board of Directors will conclude, under the conditions and clauses that it will determine, all agreements intended to ensure the subscription of all or part of the shares to be allotted.

Existing shareholders are given advance notice of any proposed issuance stating, at a minimum, the number of shares to be issued, the proposed price or method of determining the price of issuance, and the time period – not exceeding three (3) months- and procedure for exercising the pre-emptive rights. All rules and conditions for exercise must be uniform for all shareholders who have this right. Shares subject to pre-emption rights that are not acquired by existing shareholders pursuant to such rights may be issued to any person within a period of three (3) months after having been offered to existing shareholders at the same price as the price set for the exercise of pre-emption rights. The allotment of shares at a lower price during or after such three (3)-month period is subject to existing shareholders' rights.

Article 10: Prohibition of invitation to the public

Any invitation to the public to subscribe to a share in the Company is prohibited.

Article 11: Shareholders' rights and liabilities

A share in the Company shall confer on the holder:

1° the right to share in the distribution of the dividends of the Company;
2° the right to share in the distribution of the surplus assets of the Company upon its liquidation;
3° in accordance with other rights and privileges and subject to such limitations or conditions on such rights as may be provided for in the Law governing Companies or these Articles of Association, the right to vote on shareholders' resolutions includes:

- a. appointing or removing an auditor or director;
- b. approving a major transaction;
- c. any borrowing by the company or any guarantees to be issued by Directors for borrowing by the company
- d. adopting or altering articles of association;
- e. dissolving the Company;
- f. approving an amalgamation in accordance with the provisions of the Law.

Unless otherwise specified in these Articles of Association, each share has attached to it the following rights:

- 1° with respect to the right to share in the distribution of the dividends of the Company, the right to an equal share;
- 2° with respect to the right to share in the distribution of the surplus assets of the Company upon its winding up, the right to an equal share;
- 3° with respect to the right to vote on shareholders' resolutions, the right to one vote.

The shareholder shall have the right to inspect the register and other documents within the limits of relevant provisions of these Articles of Association and the Law governing companies.

A shareholder shall not be liable for an obligation of the Company by reason of being only a shareholder.

The liability of a shareholder shall be limited to:

1. any amount unpaid on a share held by the shareholder;
2. any liability to repay a distribution received by the shareholder to the extent that the distribution is recoverable.

The shareholders may, by unanimous resolution or by unanimous shareholders' agreement, approve any payment, provision, benefit, assistance or any other distribution provided that there are reasonable grounds to believe that, after the distribution, the Company is likely to satisfy its solvency test.

Article 12: Date for determining shareholders' rights

The date for determination of shareholders entitled to receive notice of or vote at a meeting of shareholders is:

- (a) the close of business on the day immediately preceding the day on which the notice is given;
- (b) if no notice is given, the day on which the meeting is held.

The date for the determination of shareholders rights for any purpose except determining the right to receive notice of or to vote at a meeting is at the close of business on the day on which the directors pass the resolution relating thereto.

The Board of Directors fixes in advance a date on which the shareholders are to be determined for the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to receive notice of or vote at a meeting of shareholders, provided that the date fixed may not precede by more than thirty (30) days or by less than ten (10) days the date on which the meeting is to be held.

Article 13: Variation of rights

Where the share capital of the Company is divided into different classes of shares, the Company does not take any action which varies the rights attached to a class of shares unless that variation is approved by a special resolution of shareholders having such a class of shares.

Where the variation of rights attached to a class of shares is approved and the Company becomes entitled to take the action concerned, the holder of a share of that class, who did not consent to or cast any vote in favour of the resolution for the variation, may apply to a competent Court for an order against acts that are prejudicial to a shareholder, or he or she may require the Company to purchase those shares.

Article 14: Special rights

Without prejudice to any special rights previously conferred on the holders of any existing shares or class of shares, any share in the Company may be issued with such preferred, deferred or other special rights or with such restrictions, whether in regard to dividend, voting, return of capital or otherwise as the Company may determine from time to time by ordinary resolution.

Article 15: Classes of the shares and rights thereto attached

In accordance with the law governing companies, the Company may have different classes of shares as the Board of Directors may determine.

The Board of Directors shall determine for each class, the specific rights thereto attached, in accordance with the law.

Article 16: Modification of rights

If, at any time, the share capital is divided into different classes of shares, rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided in the terms of issuing shares of this class) may, whether the Company is being wound up or not, be amended by a resolution adopted at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares of the class.

Article 17: Restrictions on conferring Special Rights

The rights conferred upon the holders of the shares of any class issued with preferential or other rights will not, unless expressly provided otherwise in the terms of issuance of the shares of this class, be deemed to be varied by the creation or issuing of further shares ranking pari passu therewith.

Article 18: Transfer and transmission of shares

Without prejudice to the relevant legal provisions, a share can be transferred by a shareholder either to his/her spouse and/or his legitimate children or to the person selected by the transferor.

No share shall be transferred to a non-shareholder unless he/she has been selected by the transferor and approved by the Board of Directors.

Where a shareholder wishes to transfer their shares, then they will be offered to other existing shareholders on pro rata basis and if they do not purchase the shares then the shares can be sold to a third party which shall be approved by the Board of Directors.

Where a non-shareholder has not been approved by the Board of Directors either for lack of trust in him/her or for failure to accept the share value, such share/s shall be offered to the existing shareholders as the Board shall determine.

A shareholder may not pledge their shares as security to a third party.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding paragraphs of this Article, in the event that the Board of Directors deems it necessary to obtain additional financing for the Company or its business, by way of the sale at a premium, of the shares to third parties (whether such sale shall be by way of the transfer of existing shares or the issue of new shares, or both), this condition will then be waived as appropriate on such terms as the Board shall determine.

Article 19: Notification of alteration of incorporation documents due to allotment of shares

When the Company issues shares, the Board of Directors submits to the Registrar General a notice of alteration of the company's incorporation documents within ten (10) working days from such an allotment.

Article 20: Registered shares

The ownership of registered shares is established by an inscription in the register of shares mentioned in Article 23 of these Articles of association.

The transfer of registered shares is affected and entered in the register of shares by a Director of the Company under a valid transfer instrument.

Unless otherwise provided for by the Law or in accordance with the provisions of these Articles of association, no transfer of shares shall be entered in the register of shares without presenting to the Company a valid transfer instrument in the form prescribed for this purpose.

Transfer operations in the register of shares are suspended on the day of the general meeting and for the five preceding days, the first and the last day not counted.

Article 21: Form of Transfer and allotment of shares

Subject to the restrictions of these Articles of association as may be applicable, any shareholder may transfer all or part of his shares by a written instrument, in the usual common form or in any other form that the Directors may approve and unless and until otherwise provided by the Law governing companies, such transfer shall be signed by or on behalf of the transferor by the duly authorised person.

The common form of transfer, including electronic transfer, may be used provided that it does not violate the legal and regulatory provisions, including the Instructions of the Registrar General determining the modalities of electronic transfer from security to shares.

The Company shall not be bound to allow the exercise of any act or matter by a proxy for a shareholder unless a duly certified copy of the authorization of such proxy is filed with the Company.

The transferor shall be deemed to remain the holder of the share until the name of the transferee is entered in the register of shareholders in this capacity. No fee shall be due for recording a transfer.

Article 22: Evidence of grant of probate

Any document which is by law sufficient evidence of probate of the will, or letters or certificate of administration of the estate, of a deceased person having been granted to some person is accepted by the company, notwithstanding anything in these Memorandum and Articles of Association, as sufficient evidence of such grant or undertaking.

Article 23: Register of shares and index of shareholders

In strict compliance with the legal provisions in force concerning the keeping of company records, the Company keeps at its head office, or at any other place in Rwanda, a register of shares in which the registered shares are entered and consulted by any shareholder or any interested third party.

Unless the register of shareholders is of such a nature as to constitute an alphabetical index in itself, the Company maintains an index of the names of the shareholders entered in the register of shares, classified in alphabetical order, in the same place as the register of shares. The index relating to each shareholder contains sufficient information to make it easy to find the account of this shareholder in the register.

Article 24: Share certificates

Non-transferable certificates noting the entries into the register of their shares are issued to holders of registered shares within one month.

A share certificate, validly signed by at least one Board Member, specifies the number of shares held by a shareholder and constitutes a prima facie evidence of his title to the shares.

The certificate is cancelled and replaced each time there is a transfer, even partial, of the shares to which it refers.

If a share certificate is defaced, lost or destroyed, it may be renewed without payment of any fee and on such terms (if any) as to evidence and indemnification and payment of the Company's out-of-pocket expenses for investigation on the evidence, as the Directors think fit.

The Board of Directors is free to keep, in any place, one or more copies of the register of registered shares, which prove the rights of their owners in the event that the original could not be consulted.

Electronic means may be used for registration of shares and an electronic register of shares may be kept.

Article 25: Declining to register the transfer

The Board may refuse to register the transfer of a share on which the Company has advantages or a transfer not supported by a valid instrument of transfer.

Where the Company refuses to register a transfer of a share, the Board of Directors shall, within 30 days, send the transferee a notice of refusal stating the reasons for the refusal.

Article 26: Suspension of transfer

Registration of transfers may be suspended at such times and for such periods as the Board of Directors may determine, from time to time, provided always that such registration is not be suspended for more than thirty (30) days per year.

Article 27: Notice concerning shares of Company's share capital

Within ten (10) days of the allotment of shares under these Articles of association, the Board of Directors shall give notice to the Registrar General specifying:

- 1° the number of shares allotted;
- 2° the amount of the consideration for which the shares have been issued, its value as determined by the Board of Directors;
- 3° the amount of the Company's share capital following the issue of the shares;
- 4° the rights, privileges, limitations and conditions attached to each allotted share or class, and its transferability.

In the case of a cancellation of shares, the notice specifies for shares of each class, the number cancelled and the date of cancellation.

Article 28: A share under co-ownership

Where two or more persons jointly hold one or more shares in the Company, they shall be treated as a single shareholder.

If there are several owners of the same share, the Company reserves the right to suspend the exercise of the rights thereof until a single person has been appointed as proxy for all the others.

Article 29: Exercise of shareholder's rights and powers.

A shareholder may exercise the right to vote and other rights attached to his/her share, to receive notices and distribution of dividends.

The powers conferred to the shareholders of the Company shall be exercised according to these Articles of Association and, if mandatory, to the law governing companies.

No representatives, heirs or creditors of a shareholder shall, for whatever reason, shall have the rights on the goods and values of the Company, institute an opposition, demand for their inventory, their division or sale by auction or to involve themselves in the daily management of the Company.

To exercise their rights, they must refer to the balance sheet and the decisions of the general meeting.

Article 30: Conflict of interests for shareholders

Without prejudice to the provision of the law governing companies, where a transaction bears a shareholder personal interest, it shall be approved by the Board of Directors. Where this transaction exceeds 5% of the Company's property, the approval shall be taken by a special resolution of an extraordinary shareholder's meeting.

A shareholder of a Company who is interested in a transaction or proposed transaction with the Company, shall immediately after becoming aware of the transaction or proposed transaction cause to be entered in the register of interests, the annual report of the Company and disclose to the board the nature and extent of his or her interest and where the interest can be quantified and the monetary value of that interest. The notice so entered in the register of interests shall be debated and decided on by the Board of Directors within three (3) months of the transaction being disclosed to all the shareholders by the Board of Directors, unless the Company receives fair value under the transaction.

If a transaction is entered into by the Company in the ordinary course of its business and on usual terms and conditions, the Company is presumed to receive fair value under the transaction. The question whether the Company receives fair value under a transaction is determined on the basis of the information known to the Company or to the interested shareholder at the time the transaction is entered into.

TITLE-III

ADMINISTRATION AND MANAGEMENT OF THE COMPANY

Article 31: Management by the Board of Directors

The Company is managed by, or under the direction or supervision of the Board of Directors composed of a minimum of three (3) and maximum of seven (7) members, physical persons, shareholders or not.

The Board of Directors shall have all powers necessary for the management of the Company except those expressly reserved by the Law or these Articles of Association to other bodies.

Article 32: Appointment of Directors

The directors, who shall be physical persons, shall be appointed by a shareholders' ordinary resolution in an annual general meeting of shareholders and this meeting shall determine their number and the duration of their term of office.

A person to be nominated a director shall fulfil the requirements of the law governing companies, shall not be disqualified from appointment as a director and shall indicate his/her consent in writing.

Any outgoing member of the board without any conflicting issue with the Company can be re-elected.

At least, one director shall be ordinarily residing in Rwanda.

The Board of Directors may choose within or outside this Board, a management committee, and determine its capacity and its functioning.

Article 33: Remuneration and other benefits for members of the Board of Directors

By an ordinary resolution the general meeting of shareholders shall approve the remuneration of the directors and any allowances or benefits, including any allowances compensation for loss of membership, payable to the directors.

Directors may be paid all travel, accommodation and other expenses properly incurred by them in attending any meetings of the Board of Directors or in connection with the business of the Board of Directors.

Article 34: Removal of a member of the Board of Directors

The general meeting of the shareholders may, by an ordinary resolution, at any time, dismiss or remove one or all of the directors of the Company before the expiration of their term of office, with or without a stated reason or cause notwithstanding anything in these Articles of Association or in any agreement between the Company and the director.

The notice of shareholders' meeting must state that among items on the agenda of the meeting include the vote on the removal of a director and be sent to the director(s) concerned.

A director removed from office in the manner provided under Paragraph One of this Article is disqualified from performing other duties associated with his or her office as director.

Nothing in this Article is construed as depriving such a director of compensation or damages as a result of termination of office and disqualification from other duties associated therewith.

Article 35: Falling vacant for the post of a member of the Board of Directors

In case the mandate of a director is in vacancy for one of the following reasons:

- resignation in writing;
- removal from office;
- no longer meets the requirements;
- death;

Subject to the provisions of these Articles of Association, a director may resign office by signing a written notice of resignation and delivering it to the address for service of the Company and any such notice is effective from the time of receipt at the address for service of the Company or from such later time as is specified in the notice.

Notwithstanding vacation of the office of director, a person having held that office remains liable under the provisions of the Law governing Companies imposing liabilities on directors, in relation to all acts done and decisions made while that person was director.

Where the number of directors falls under three (3) before the following general shareholders meeting, the remaining directors and the auditors, meeting in a General Council, shall provisionally appoint another one. The definitive election for the achievement of the term will be held at the time of the next general assembly.

Article 36: Disclosure of replacement of the members of the Board of Directors to the Registrar General

Whenever a director is appointed, the Board of Directors discloses to the Registrar General and the shareholders, within 10 days, the director appointed, directorships held in the past five (5) years, working experience and occupations.

Such disclosure is made upon the appointment of each director and thereafter at least once annually and can in no way be included in the notice to shareholders of each annual general meeting of shareholders.

In default of this, all the directors shall be considered as defaulting persons.

Article 37: Prohibition of conflict of interests for a board member

Any transaction in which a member or members of the board of directors have interest in, shall be done in a manner consistent with the law governing companies.

A resolution for the approval of one or several transactions, or of a series of existing transactions shall not be valid unless is signed and approved at the latest within 15 days following the date on which the first series of transactions started to be conducted.

A Director shall, forthwith after becoming aware of the fact that he/she is interested in a transaction or proposed transaction with the Company, cause to be entered in the interest register where it has one and disclose to the Board.

A director of the Company who is interested in a transaction entered into or to be entered to, by the Company shall not vote on any matter relating to the transaction. If he/she votes on it, his/her vote shall be null and void.

A transaction shall not be void where the Company receives fair value under it.

Article 38: The Board's responsibility

The Board of Directors represents the Company only; it only exercises its duties for the Company and contracts no personal obligations when acting within the scope of the Company.

It is only answerable for acts or omissions or faults committed during the exercise of its functions and execution of the term of office.

The Board is jointly responsible for offences contrary to the law or the statute governing this Company committed either towards the Company or the third party;

According to the law governing companies, where a director or directors wilfully commits a breach of any duty:

1. shall be liable to compensate the Company for any loss it suffers as a result of the breach;
2. shall be liable to account to the Company for any profit made as a result of such breach;
3. any contract entered into between the director or the officer and the Company with regard to that transaction may be rescinded by the Company.

They will be discharged of this responsibility for offences to which they did not take part, if no fault was committed by them and if they denounced these offences in the next general assembly after they had knowledge of their commission.

Article 39: Powers of the Board

The Board of Directors is invested with extensive powers without limitation and reservation, to act in the name of the Company, to carry out all operations and acts of administration and of disposal which is in the interest of the Company and which relates to its objectives.

All what is not expressly reserved for the general meeting of shareholders by law or by the present statute, is in the competence of the Board of Directors.

In conformity with the law governing companies, the Board of Directors shall not enter into a major transaction unless the transaction is approved by special resolution from the general meeting of shareholders.

Article 40: Non-disclosure of the Company information or opportunity

Any person appointed as a director has the duty to act with loyalty to the Company. This duty includes but is not limited to the following:

- 1° not to use property of the Company for the director's personal benefit;
- 2° not to disclose or use confidential information of the Company for the director's or any other person's personal benefit;
- 3° not to take business opportunities of the Company;
- 4° not to compete in business with the Company including but not limited to competing individually or as a director of another company which competes in business with the Company.

A director shall not make improper use of his or her position as a director of the Company or of any information acquired solely by virtue of his or her position, and to which he/she would not have had access in other circumstances, to gain directly or indirectly, a personal benefit for himself or for any other person or to cause detriment to the Company other than for the purposes of the Company.

A director may disclose, use, or act on the basis of any information if particulars of the disclosure, use or act are entered in the register of interests and the director is authorized to do so by the Board of Directors and the Company receives fair value thereof.

A Company's director may, upon notice to the Board of Directors, put to use or disclose information to a person whose interests he/she represents or to the person authorised to be informed following guidelines, instructions, powers and responsibilities.

The Board of Directors may authorize a director or directors to disclose, put to use information or act depending on it, provided the Company's interests are not jeopardized.

Any interest that a director or directors obtained from using the information he/she has access to, shall be made known to the Company.

Article 41: Elections of the Chairperson of the Board

The Board of Directors meet and appoint a chairperson, and a vice chairperson who replaces the chairperson in his/her absence or prevention to act as Chairperson for any reason.

Article 42: Board Meetings

The Board shall meet twice a year and any time if it deems necessary. Conducting meetings through electronic means is permitted.

The quorum for the meeting shall constitute 2/3 of the members of the Board. Each hindered member can, by letter, give to one of his/her colleagues, the capacity of representation in the board and the General Council meeting and vote in his/her behalf. The proxies are annexed to the minutes of the meeting.

Any proxy can represent several of his colleagues, provided that the majority of the members are personally present.

The board of directors meets after a call for the meeting from the chairperson who presides it.

If a meeting has not been held due to lack of quorum after two adjournments then at the third adjourned meeting the directors present will form quorum.

If for any reason whatsoever, the chairperson does not convene the meeting of the board, and if the majority of directors regard it necessary, the board meeting is convened and chaired by the vice chairperson or, in his/her absence, the director appointed by his /her colleagues, anytime the interest of the Company so requires and, in the place, indicated in the invitation.

Article 43: Decisions and minutes of the meeting of the Board

Every decision of the Board of Directors is taken by an absolute majority of the directors present in the meeting or represented ones.

If during a meeting of the Board of Directors constituting the required majority to validly deliberate, one or several members abstain because they have personal interest's contrary to those of the Company, the majority of other present members will validly take the decisions.

The deliberations of the Board of Directors are written down in the minutes signed by the majority members present at the deliberation and who take part in the voting.

These minutes can be drawn on separate sheets of paper; these sheets of paper are bound together at least once a year. The proxies as well as the notices and the ballot votes or telegrams or duly printed emails are also annexed to it.

The copies or extracts to be produced in justice or elsewhere are signed by the Chairperson or by two members of the Board.

The Board may have circular decisions, if necessary.

Article 44: Delegation of powers

The Board may entrust to and upon a Managing Director any of the powers exercised by it, but within such terms and conditions and with such restrictions as may deem fit; however, the board may from time-to-time revoke, withdraw, alter or vary all or any of such powers.

However, the members of Board of Directors cannot delegate any of their fiduciary duties. If the Board of Directors have delegated any power under Paragraph One of this article, then every director, whether a party to the decision to delegate or not, is responsible for every exercise of the power by the delegate as if the power was exercised by the director or any one or more of them, unless he or she:

- 1° believes on reasonable grounds at all times before the exercise of the power that the delegate will exercise the power in conformity with the duties imposed on directors of the Company by the Law governing Companies and these Articles of Association;
- 2° has monitored, by means of reasonable methods properly used, the exercise of the power by the delegate.

Article 45: Appointment of a Managing Director

The Board may from time to time appoint and delegate powers to a Managing Director from within the Board or an employee of the Company or any other person out of the board for such period and on such terms as it deems fit.

The Board of Directors determines the terms of any service contract with a Managing Director or other Executive directors.

The Board of directors shall determine the salaries, emoluments and allowances attached to the mandates, capacities, delegation or mission it confers; these salaries, emoluments and indemnities are attributable to the operating expenses of the Company.

Articles 46: Powers assignable to a Managing Director

The Board shall by a special decision, determine the powers and duties of a Managing Director.

Save with the prior approval of the Board, the Managing Director shall not on behalf of the Company:

- a) change the nature or scope of the Company's business as carried on from time to time in any material way or discontinue such business (except where it is insolvent) or commence any new business (not being ancillary or incidental to the Company's Business);
- b) acquire or make any investment in another Company or business or incorporate or set up any subsidiary;
- c) conclude any material contract, transaction or arrangements with any person other than in normal course of the Company's business;
- d) sell, transfer, lease, license, or in any way dispose of its business or undertaking or any part of it or interest in it otherwise than in ordinary course of its business;
- e) if the Board deems fit other restrictions shall be determined.

Article 47: The Company Seal

The Board shall provide for the safe custody of the seal, which shall be used by the authority of the Board or of a committee of the board authorised by the board on that behalf, and any instrument upon which the seal is to be affixed shall be signed by a director in the name of the Board and countersigned by the Company secretary.

Article 48: Company Signatures

In the absence of a special delegation from the board of directors, all acts binding the Company, other than those of day-to-day management, must be signed jointly, either by the Chairperson and Managing Director, or by the vice Chairperson and the Managing Director.

Corporate officers and proxy third parties can validly commit the Company only within the limits of the powers they are conferred on by the Board of Directors.

The Company is not bound and the acts performed in its name are void, unless they bear the signatures prescribed in this article.

Article 49: Appointment of an employee to act as Company Secretary

The Board of Directors may appoint an employee as a Company Secretary for such term, at such remuneration and under such conditions that it deems appropriate; and any employee so appointed can only be removed by the appointing body.

Such employee shall, among others, as the appointing authority may determine, advise directors on their responsibilities and powers; inform directors about all the necessary regulations or those which may affect the meetings of shareholders and of the Board of Directors, reports thereof and submission of all Company documents required by the law to relevant organs as well as consequences due to the failure to comply with such regulations; ensure that minutes of the meetings of shareholders or the Board of Directors are well prepared and that registers provided for by the incorporation documents are accurately kept; ensure that annual balance sheet and other required documents are submitted to the Registrar General as provided for by the Law; ensure that copies of annual balance sheet and activity reports are transmitted to relevant destinations in accordance with the Law governing companies and to any person as provided by the Law; ensure the registration of Company shares, perform such other duties as may be assigned by the Board of Directors.

Article 50: Representation of the Company in legal cases

A Managing Director can, in the name of the Company, represented by its Board of Directors, file, form and support all actions as well as claiming and defending the Company before any jurisdiction of judicial or administrative order, exercise all recourse, ensure the execution of intervening decisions, sign all deeds, proxies, documents, sub-delegate without substituting his/her powers, within limits and duration determined.

The Managing Director, by way of a general or special agreement, may appoint a legal Counsel to represent the Company in any litigation or any meeting aimed to create, protect, safeguard, Company's interests. To this end, the Managing Director may assign the legal Counsel to deal, on behalf of the Company, for due remuneration, with any situation which could, in one way or another, concern the interests of the Company.

TITLE-IV

CONTROL AND AUDITING

Article 51: Audit and Control of Company's activities

The transactions of the Company are audited by (an) auditor(s) or auditing firm as stated in the law governing companies, appointed at each annual general meeting. The remuneration and other expenses for the auditor(s) or the auditing firm shall be determined by the general meeting of shareholders at each annual meeting.

Article 52: Powers

The auditors or an auditing firm shall have rights of inspection and control on the overall operations of the Company, within the limits of the law governing companies.

The Board of Directors shall ensure that auditors or auditing firm of the Company have access to the accounting records and other documents of the Company, but without displacing them.

Auditors of the Company are entitled to receive from Directors or employees such information and explanations as they think necessary for the performance of their duties as auditors.

An employee who is asked to provide information may not disclose such information or provide the required opinion.

TITLE-V

GENERAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

Article 53: Powers

The validly constituted general meeting of shareholders represents the universality of the shareholders.

Its decisions taken in accordance with these articles of association are binding on all shareholders, including those absent, incapable or dissenting

Without prejudice to the authority attributed to the Board of Directors by these articles of association, it has extensive powers to carry out and ratify acts in the interests of the Company.

It has the power, by a special resolution, to amend or revoke the memorandum of association and the articles of association.

Within five (5) working days after the Company adopts, alters or revokes its articles of association, the Board of Directors shall cause a notice to be delivered to the Registrar General for registration.

Article 54: Annual General meeting

In conformity with the law governing companies, an ordinary Annual General Meeting of Shareholders shall be held each year by the end of March. The meeting shall be held in the place indicated in the notice sent by the Board of Directors. Shareholders can attend the meeting through remote video conferencing means.

Article 55: Matters for resolutions by the annual general meeting of shareholders

Without prejudice to the law governing companies, the annual general meeting of shareholders hears the reports of the directors and auditors, rules on the financial statements, corrects them or rejects them.

After adoption of the financial statement, it decides, by a simple vote, on the discharge of the Board and the Auditors. It also deliberates on any other business on the agenda.

Where the financial statement is not approved at the annual meeting, it shall be presented to another special meeting called by the Board of Director within ninety (90) days. Meanwhile, and under its responsibility, the Board shall submit the tax declaration in accordance with tax laws.

Article 56: Documents to be disclosed annually to the shareholders by the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors shall send to every shareholder within the time limit provided for in these Articles of Association of the end of the calendar year, at least the following documents:

- 1° a copy of the Company's annual accounts approved and signed;
- 2° a copy of the auditor's report on those accounts;
- 3° a copy of the Board of Directors' report relating to the same accounting period as those accounts.

Article 57: Content of the report of the Board of Directors to the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders

The annual report of the Board of Directors to the Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders shall be in writing and shall at least:

1. state the principal activities of the Company and its subsidiaries, if any, during the period and any significant changes in those activities during the period;
2. contain a fair review of the development of the business of the Company and its subsidiaries, if any, during the accounting period and of their positions at the end of it;
3. state any donations exceeding the prescribed amount, including charitable or political donations made by the Company since the date of the previous report;
4. state particulars of any entries in the register of interests made since the date of the previous annual report;
5. state the amount, if any, which the Board of Directors recommends should be paid as dividend and the amount, if any, which they propose to carry to reserves;

6. be signed by all the Board Members or, if not possible for acceptable reason, on behalf of the Board of Directors by at least two (2) Directors of the Company;

Article 58: Extraordinary General Meeting

The Board of Directors may, any time, convene an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders.

The Board of Directors shall convene an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders upon request made by written notice served on the Company signed by one or more persons holding the right to exercise not less than five per cent (5%) of the votes entitled to be cast on the issues to be discussed at the meeting as set out in the notice.

Similarly, the Board of Directors shall convene an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders upon written request by the external Auditor(s).

Notice of each extraordinary general meeting is sent to all shareholders not less than fifteen (15) days before the date of the meeting, and notice states the agenda for the meeting.

In addition to the agenda to be as precise as possible, the notice shall always state the place of the venue, the time of the meeting, the names, and places of domicile of the requesting shareholders, as well as the number of their shares.

If after twenty-one (21) days from the date of service of the notice to convene a shareholders' extraordinary general meeting, the Board of Directors has not convened the general meeting, the signatories to the notice or any of them may convene the meeting, but such meeting is not held more than three (3) months after the date of service of the notice.

A general meeting convened under Paragraph 3 of this Article is convened in the same manner in accordance with this Article.

The Company repays to the signatories to the notice any reasonable expenses incurred by them due to the directors' failure of to comply with the provisions of this article, and any sum so repaid is deducted by the Company from the remuneration of directors who were in default.

Article 59: Other disclosures to shareholders

Where the Shareholders Meeting will need to deliberate on matters requiring special majority votes such as the change of Company's incorporation documents and these articles of association, major transactions, amalgamations, resolution for the Company to acquire its own shares, etc., the Board of Directors shall provide the Shareholders with full and reliable information related to:

1. proceedings at shareholders' meetings and the incorporation documents;
2. the index of the names of shareholders entered in the share registry;
3. other legal requirements.

Article 60: Calling for the meeting

The call or notice for the meeting shall contain the agenda proposed by the Chairperson of the Board of Directors.

The call or notice for the meeting is done either by registered letters or E-mail sent to the registered shareholders, at least fifteen (15) calendar days before the fixed date for the meeting. Any document to be sent to shareholders may be delivered physically or by electronic means to the shareholder, posted or delivered to the address for that shareholder shown on the register of shareholders. The document posted to a shareholder is deemed to be received by the shareholder five (5) working days after it is delivered to the address for that shareholder shown on the register of shareholders.

If a document sent to a shareholder at the address shown on the register of shareholders is returned unclaimed three (3) consecutive times, the company does not have to send any further documents to the shareholder until the shareholder notifies the company of his or her new address.

Article 61: Information to Auditors for attendance to the meeting of shareholders of the Company

The Board of Directors shall ensure that the notices and communications relating to the shareholders' meeting are sent to the auditors in order to enable their presence at the shareholders' meeting in accordance with the law governing companies.

Article 62: Agenda of the meeting

The Meeting deliberates on the matters stated on the agenda.

The meeting may also deliberate on other matters it deems necessary with the consent of all the members.

Article 63: Rights and responsibilities of a shareholder to propose any matter on the agenda

A shareholder may by written notice to the Board of Directors propose any matter for discussion or resolution at the next meeting of shareholders at which the shareholder is entitled to vote. The proposal that may relate to the management of the Company, must be signed by the shareholder submitting it.

If the notice of proposal is received by the Board of Directors within twenty (20) working days before the last day on which notice of the relevant meeting of shareholders is required to be given by the Board of Directors, the Board of Directors must, at the expense of the Company, give notice of such proposal and the text of any proposed resolution to all shareholders entitled to receive notice of the meeting.

If the notice of meeting is received by the Board of Directors not less than five (5) working days and not more than twenty (20) working days before the last day on which notice of the relevant meeting of shareholders is required to be given by the Board of Directors, the Board of Directors must, at the expense of the shareholder, give notice of the shareholder proposal and the text of any proposed resolution to all shareholders entitled to receive notice of the meeting.

If the notice is received by the Board of Directors less than five (5) working days before the last day on which the notice of the relevant meeting of shareholders is required to be given by the Board of Directors, the Board of Directors must, if practicable, and at the expense of the shareholder, give notice of the shareholder proposal and the text of any proposed resolution to all shareholders entitled to receive notice of the meeting

Article 64: Requirements for attendance

Within five (5) calendar days preceding the date fixed for the meeting - the date on which the call is made and the date of meeting not counted-, the owners of registered shares must inform the Board of Directors of their intention to attend and indicate the number of shares in which they intend to participate in the voting.

The Board of Directors always has the right to change the period mentioned above.

Article 65: Representation at the shareholders' meeting

Any shareholder may be represented at the general meeting by a special representative, with written powers of attorney.

Minors, interdicted persons, the legal persons, companies, communities or establishments, can be represented by a proxy who is not a shareholder of the Company.

The co-owners, usufructuaries, bare owners, pledgees and pledgors must be respectively represented by the same person.

Any irrevocable proxy is null. Ordinary proxy is only valid for one agenda.

The Board of Directors can rule on the form of the proxies and require that they be deposited at a place indicated in the notice, at least five (5) calendar days before the meeting.

Article 66: Quorum

The general meeting of shareholders can validly deliberate only when half of the authorised capital is represented.

If this condition is not met, a new meeting can be called within one month. This meeting validly deliberates on condition that a quarter of the authorised capital is represented.

Article 67: Bureau

The general meeting of shareholders is chaired by the Chairperson of the Board of Directors or, in his/her absence, by a Vice Person or by a director appointed by his/her colleagues.

The other Board Members present at the meeting, complete the Bureau; the latter will also include the employee acting as Company Secretary/Minutes taker and two (2) or three (3) scrutinizers chosen among the shareholders present at the meeting.

Article 68: Attendance List

An attendance list, drawn up by the Company Secretary shall mention the names, first names, professions, domiciles or names and registered offices of the shareholders and the number of shares and votes they represent; it shall be approved by the Meeting and signed by all the attendants.

The most practical way to confirm the presence of shareholders is determined by the general meeting when it is convened. The way chosen and the list of attendance will be mentioned in the minutes of the Meeting.

The General Meeting rules, if it so requires, on disputes related to the capacity of the voters.

Article 69: Prorogation of the meeting

If it considers that the interests of the Company are at stake, the Board of Directors can postpone the ordinary or special general meeting to another date.

Shareholders representing one tenth of the authorized capital may, once, request that a matter be postponed if they consider that they are not sufficiently informed.

Due to the prorogation, the meeting is deemed not to have taken place and any decisions thereof are automatically null and void.

New questions can be submitted to the next meeting provided that they appear in the new notice.

In the event of an extension, the formalities accomplished to attend the first meeting remain valid for the second; in addition, every shareholder has the right to accomplish the formalities necessary to attend the next meeting even if he/she did not do so at the previous one.

Article 70: Voting

Each share gives right to one vote.

The general meeting of shareholders decides by ordinary or special resolution.

Ordinary resolution shall be approved by a simple majority of votes of those shareholders entitled to vote and voting on the matter which is the subject of the resolution.

Special resolution concerns cases stated in the law governing companies and/or in these Articles of association, including the adoption or modification of any Company incorporation documents.

The special resolutions shall be adopted by a majority of the votes of three quarters of the voting shareholders.

For any resolution, abstinences are counted neither in the calculation of the majority nor for positive or negative votes.

Each resolution is done by a separate vote.

Voting is done by show of hands or by roll call, unless otherwise decided by the general assembly, by a special majority of three quarters of the voting shareholders.

Any voting agreement is null.

Voting related to appointments, remunerations, and dismissals shall be done by simple majority and secret ballot.

In the event of appointments, where all candidates obtain an equal number of votes, the most experienced candidate shall be elected the winner.

Article 71: Minutes of the meeting

Resolutions taken at a general meeting of shareholders are recorded in the minutes signed by the Chairperson, the Company Secretary and the Scrutineers.

Copies or extracts of these minutes to submit to the Registrar General, to produce in courts of law or elsewhere, are certified and signed by the Chairperson or the Vice-Chairperson of the Board of Directors or by two Directors or by a Managing Director jointly with the Company Secretary.

Article 72: Shareholders' written resolution in lieu of general meeting

A resolution in writing, signed by shareholders, shall be valid as if it has been passed at a general meeting of those shareholders, where the resolution is signed by shareholders who are entitled to vote on that resolution at a meeting of shareholders; and hold not less than seventy-five (75%) per cent of the votes entitled to be cast on that resolution, or such percentage above seventy-five (75%) per cent as is required under the incorporation documents.

Where a resolution in writing relates to any matter that is required by the Law or by the Articles of Association to be decided on at a meeting of the shareholders, and is signed by the shareholders specified in Paragraph One of this Article, it is deemed to be made in accordance with the Law or the Articles of Association of the Company.

Any resolution may consist of one or more documents in similar form, each signed or assented to by or on behalf of one or more of the shareholders specified in Paragraph One of this Article.

Within seven (7) days of a resolution being passed under this Article, the Company sends a copy of the resolution to every shareholder who did not sign the resolution or on whose behalf the resolution was not signed.

A resolution may be passed and signed under Paragraph One or 2 of this Article without any prior notice being given to shareholders.

TITLE-VI

ACCOUNTING RECORDS, ACCOUNTING PERIOD, INVENTORY, BALANCE SHEET, DIVIDEND DISTRIBUTION

Article 73: Obligation to keep accounting records

Without prejudice to the relevant provisions of relevant Laws, the Board of Directors shall ensure that the Company keeps accounting records at all times that give a true and fair view of the company's financial position and that explain its transactions and comply with accepted accounting standards.

Accounting records contain proper books of account and are kept in a written form or in a manner in which they are easily accessible and convertible into a written form with particular respect to:

- 1° daily receipts and expenses with their accounting documents;
- 2° a record of the assets and liabilities of the Company;
- 3° all sales and purchases of goods by the Company, those who bought them and related invoices;
- 4° a record of stock held and its variation;
- 5° where the Company business involves providing services, a register of services provided and relevant invoices

Article 74: Accounting period

The Company accounting period begins on the first January and ends on the thirty first of December of each year.

Article 75: Obligations of the Board of Directors in relation to annual accounts

The Board of Directors shall ensure that, within the time limits specified in the Laws governing tax and companies and in these Articles of Association, annual accounts are:

- 1° prepared and then audited by an independent auditor appointed by the Shareholders annual meeting;
- 2° disclosed to the shareholders;
- 3° approved by the shareholders in their annual meeting;
- 3° delivered to the Registrar General.

Article 76: Inventory and closing of the accounting period

On the thirty first of December of each year, the business transactions in the Company's accounting books, as well as the accounting period, are closed.

The Board of Directors shall ensure that at the end of each accounting period, the day-to-day Management of the Company draws up the inventory of all movable and immovable assets, all debts, profits and loss account of the Company, a complete financial statement as well as an appendix containing the summary of its commitments and the debts the directors owe to the Company.

Article 77: Obligation and deadline for the Board of Directors to prepare and adopt financial statement and annual report

The Board of Directors shall, within eighty (80) days following the end of the financial year, prepare and adopt the financial statement together with the balance sheet and an annual report on the affairs of the Company during the accounting period.

The balance sheet must give a true and fair view of the state of the affairs of the Company as at the accounting reference date and its profit and loss account must give a true and fair view of the profit or loss of the company for the concerned accounting period.

Article 78: Standards for balance sheet preparation

The balance sheet of the Company shall comply with international standards. In particular, all financial statements must contain explanatory notes on significant Company's policies, trends, risks, uncertainties and other factors influencing the reporting. The annual report and the financial statements shall conform to the provisions of relevant laws and required standards.

Article 79: Obligation and deadline for the Board of Directors to communicate financial statement, annual report to the Auditor(s)

The Board of Directors shall ensure that, within sixty-five (65) days following the end of the financial year, the financial statement, signed by at least one representative of the Company, be submitted to the auditors.

Article 80: Obligation and deadline for the Auditor(s) to communicate the audit report to the Board of Directors

The Auditors shall submit to the Board of Directors their audit report at least ten (10) days before the date of the Annual General Meeting of the Company.

Article 81: Obligation for the Board of Directors to communicate the audited report and relevant information to the Shareholders

The Board shall cause a copy of the duly audited annual reports -together with other documents stated in Article 56 of these Articles of Association- to be sent to every shareholder not less than 15 days before the date of the annual general meeting of shareholders.

Article 82: Duties of the Board of Directors in relation to the special annual accounts

Along with the requirements for the ordinary annual accounts, the Board of Directors shall ensure that, within three (3) months of the accounting reference date, special annual accounts are audited by an independent auditor and approved by directors and signed on their behalf at least by two Directors.

As defined by the Law governing companies, special annual accounts are a set of accounts showing the activities of the company during the accounting period, which include a balance sheet, a profit and loss account, cash flow statements, equity and changes therein.

Without prejudice to the provisions of Paragraph 1 of this Article, special annual accounts comply with any regulations concerning annual accounts and with any requirements applicable to the company under relevant Laws

Article 83: Disclosure of remuneration and other benefits for directors and other employees

During each annual general meeting of shareholders, the Board of Directors shall disclose to the shareholders the total compensation, including bonuses and incentive schemes, paid to each director, managing director, executive director and any other officer or manager who has responsibility for management and operation of current activities of the Company. Such disclosure can in no way be included in the notice inviting shareholders to each annual general meeting of shareholders.

Article 84: Discharge to the Board of Directors and Auditors

After the adoption of the balance sheet, the general assembly may by a simple vote, discharge the directors and the auditors. This discharge releases the eventual securities concerning non-renewable mandates.

The discharge is valid only if the balance sheet contains neither omission, nor false indication concealing the real situation of the Company and, concerning the acts made contrary to the Articles of Association, if they make the subject of special indication in the notice.

Article 85: Dividend Distribution

The Company shall not make any distribution of dividends unless upon authorisation by the board of directors and approval by the general annual meeting of shareholders. Such approval shall be taken by a special resolution.

The Board of Directors may authorise a distribution of dividends at such time and of such amount as it thinks fit, if the Company shall, upon the distribution being made, satisfy the solvency test.

Where, after a distribution of dividends is authorised and before it is made, the Board of Directors ceases to be satisfied that the Company shall, upon the distribution of dividends being made, satisfy the solvency test, any distribution of dividends made by the Company shall be deemed not to have been authorised.

Article 86: Communication to the Registrar General

Within 30 days after the approval of the financial statements by the annual general meeting, the Board shall submit to the Registrar General copies of the financial statements and the auditor's report on those statements.

However, in case new Board Members are appointed by the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders, the resolution thereof shall be submitted to the Registrar General in less than ten (10) days of the appointment.

TITLE-VII

DISSOLUTION - LIQUIDATION

Article 86: Dissolution of the Company

The Company can be dissolved at any time by a special resolution passed by an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders

In case the Company undergoes a loss of a quarter of its share capital, the Board of Directors will convene an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders and submit to it the measures which should ensure the rectification of the situation.

Where the Company:

- is unable to pay its due debts;
- is unable to satisfy its insolvency test,
- is over indebted and is not in position to pay the debts at the due date,

the provisions of the law relating to commercial recovery and settling issues arising from insolvency will apply.

Article 87: Liquidation

The general meeting of shareholders which will decide on the dissolution of the Company will also decide on the principles to be followed by the liquidators.

TITLE-VIII

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 88: Applicable laws

The undersigned, shareholders of SULFO RWANDA INDUSTRIES Ltd, declare and undertake to comply with the relevant and mandatory provisions of Rwandan laws, more specifically the provisions of the law governing companies.

Article 89: Election of domicile

Unless otherwise stated in these Articles of Association, for the implementation of these Memorandum and Articles of Association, the domicile for any shareholder, a director or an auditor is presumed to be that of the Company to which all communications, summons and notices can be addressed, and which shall constitute the address for legal proceedings on them.
