CONSTITUTION OF THE REPUBLIC OF SEYCHELLES
(ELEVENTH AMENDMENT) (NO. 2) BILL, 2024

(Bill No. 15 of 2024)

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE OBJECTS AND REASONS FOR THE BILL

The Constitution (Eleventh Amendment) (No.2) Bill 2024 seeks to amend the Constitution of the Republic of Seychelles to enhance and clarify various provisions related to the election and tenure of the President and the National Assembly, as well as other related matters. The primary objectives and reasons for these amendments are as follows:

Fixed Date for Presidential Election and Tenure of the President:

The Bill proposes a fixed date for the Presidential election, ensuring it is held five weeks prior to the expiration of the President's term. This amendment aims to provide sufficient time for a possible second round of elections and to facilitate a smooth transition of power.

Simultaneous Elections for President and National Assembly:

The Bill proposes that elections for the National Assembly be held on the same day as the Presidential election. This change aims to streamline the electoral process and ensure consistency in the timing of elections.

Repeal of Article 52A:

The Bill proposes the repeal of Article 52A, which allows the President to resign during his or her term and seek a fresh mandate from the electorate. This repeal aligns with the commitment to fixed-term elections and prevents the President from calling for an early election.

Vacancy in the Office of the President:

The Bill provides clear and detailed procedures for addressing a vacancy in the office of the President, whether due to resignation, removal, death, or incapacity. It ensures that the Vice-President assumes the role of President in specific circumstances and clarifies the limitations of their powers during this interim period. The Bill also stipulates that, in the event of the President's death or incapacity, the Vice-President assumes the presidency for the remainder of the term and outlines the process for appointing a new Vice-President with the approval of the National Assembly. Additionally, it introduces provisions to limit the eligibility of a Vice-President who assumes the presidency to serve only one additional term if they have already served more than two-thirds of the term of the President they succeeded.

Protection of the President in Legal Proceedings:

The Bill proposes to amend Article 59 to repeal the three-year limitation period for bringing proceedings against a former President.

Absence of the President and Vice-President:

The Bill clarifies the discharge of presidential functions during temporary absences of both the President and Vice-President, designating the Principal Minister to perform these duties with specific limitations on their powers.

Title Change for Designated Minister:

The Bill proposes changing the title “Designated Minister” to “Principal Minister” to reduce confusion and better reflect the role.

These amendments are intended to strengthen democratic processes, enhance clarity in governance, and ensure the efficient functioning of the constitutional framework of the Republic of Seychelles.
